

A Home For Reuben

Hello, my name is Reuben and I'm a big fun-loving boy that needs a home. I am what you humans call a mutt because I am a mixed-breed dog but I have spirit and love to play. All I need is someone like you who needs a friend of the four-legged variety.

Let me be up front here about myself. I'm about 70 pounds of fun and love that likes to be with people, but I'm not a big fan of other dogs getting too near my human friends. I am very people oriented but not a big doggie-dog. With humans I'm very friendly and enjoy hanging out chasing balls, or even better, I like giving squirrels my two cents worth. As best as I can figure out, I need someone who wishes to have a loyal companion, a good protector and someone with lots of outdoor space for me to run, play and get my energy leveled off. I really need someone who loves dogs and understands that I have spent most of my three to four years of life at MaxFund animal shelter because I was found as a stray. Like many humans I get afraid of the unknown and don't care for loud noises, crowded spaces, going to the doctor, car traffic or having my picture taken.

I know that somewhere out there is a person much like me that enjoys privacy and a good companion. All dogs are not created the same way and I am one of those that just needs a real friend to love and someone to care about me. I do need some training so I can learn that it's okay for other dogs to share my playground and be allowed to play with me, but I do know my basic commands.

We can do it together; I just need a chance, some love and a little understanding. Maybe you could be the one. Please come by MaxFund and meet me...we could start a new world together and be each other's best friend. I've waited a really long time and I need a forever home. Won't you please give me a chance?
